		Now of the Court
4	essoins	William Page of common [suit of court], by Thomas Wilkyns. Richard Tillesworth of the same, by [blank].
5	fine paid to the treasurer Spykes respited? in the name of heriot paid to the treasurer fealty	The homage are charged by their fealty and say that John Goldewyer senior, who of the lord held by roll of court one tenement and 20 acres land and meadow with pertinents called Spykes, lying in West Morden, as appears by copy of court bearing the date the Tuesday next after Michaelmas 5 Edward IV, died in February last, whence [nothing?] falls due to the lord in the name of heriot because he died outside the lordship and had no animals within the lordship. And that Robert Goldewyer is his son and nearest heir and of full age, who being present in court seeks his admittance and is admitted, to whom the lord grants seisin thereof by the rod, to hold to himself and his heirs and assigns, of the lord by roll of court at the lord's will saving [the lord's] right etc. Rendering the lord in respect thereof yearly at the usual festivals the rent services and customs due. And he gives the lord for fine as appears in the heading. And he does fealty etc.

6	respited? relief 12d	Also they say that the aforesaid John held, on the day that he died, of the lord freely by charter, one toft, 3½ acres of land and one acre of meadow by service of 12d a year [and] died seised thereof in the aforesaid month. And that the aforesaid Robert is his son and nearest heir and of full age, whence there falls due to the lord for relief as appears in the heading.
7	common the order is given	Also they say that the tenants at the same place have their pigs unringed and they ruin [subv^{er}tentes] the common and the tenants' ground [solum tenentm]. Therefore the order is given to them to ring the aforesaid pigs before the feast of Pentecost under penalty of forfeiture [forisfacture] each of them 2d.

8	ale-house keepers in mercy 8d	John Bele and Walter Hegge, aletasters at the same place, swear that John Godfrey ^{6d} and William Broke's wife ^{2d} are common ale-house keepers [pandox'] and break the assize. Therefore they are severally in mercy as appears over their names.
9	elections	They elect into the office of constable at the same place William Goldewyer in place of John Godfrey. They elect into the office of chief [pledge] at the same place Robert Childe in place of William Broke and John Bonde. And they are sworn.
10		Afferers: John Goldewyer and William Goldewyer, sworn.
